

Scholarship Music Concert

September

We are always blown away by the outstanding recitals from our music scholars at our annual Scholarship Music Concert. This year's concert was no exception, with stellar performances from all 16 of our scholarship students.

Highlights from the concert included a moody rendition of Racmaninoff's C# Minor Prelude from Michi Lo that brought the house down; and let's not forget Yeon ju Hong's mesmerizing performance of Il Bacio.

After intermission, we were lucky to have a representative from the Nesbitt Centre talk to us about their organization - an organization that the Music Scholarship Concert continues to sponsor. Ron, part of the Nesbitt program, explained to us how The Nesbitt Centre works with adults with special needs to achieve their potential through a variety of learning opportunities and integration into communities.

The music continued to enthrall during the second half with an energetic recital by James Koo on the xylophone and a thrilling violin performance of Bloch's Baal Shem from Galex Wong. The evening's musical journey ended with an entertaining Tchaikovsky piano duet from year 10 Scholars Vivianna Siu and Cynthia Lam.

Talking to fellow music lovers after the concert, the words "talented" and "passionate" were mentioned - and we agree wholeheartedly. We are extremely lucky to have such a group of talented and passionate musicians at RCHK. We are already looking forward to next year's concert!
